Assistant/Associate Professor, Law

The Social & Educational Science Unit is pleased to invite applications for the position of Assistant/Associate Professor, Law. This full-time appointment will begin 2 August 2021.

The Department of Law and Government in the School of Social Sciences has a history of excellence in preparing graduates who are dynamic, active professionals who have a passion for nation building. Our faculty are dynamic teachers and researchers who incorporate both theory and practice and who help students acquire the knowledge, skills and competencies essential for navigating their personal and professional lives. Our LLB programme serves tight-knit cohorts of students, both full-time and part-time. It seeks to prepare students with a strong understanding of and commitment to meeting the needs of The Bahamas and the Caribbean region. We encourage applications from professionals who can help us continue to develop the talents of our students and prepare exceptional, ethical and 21st century-ready citizens of The Bahamas and the world.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach undergraduate law courses with a focus on core elements of the law as well as on arbitration and mediation, human rights, environmental law, and/or maritime law; engage in scholarly work; assist in securing external grants and other funding opportunities; engage in curriculum review, revision and development; participate in student recruitment and advisement; and serve on departmental, school, university-wide and external committees.

KNOWLEDGE: We are seeking a faculty colleague to teach courses leading to a Bachelor degree in Law, as well as assisting in the establishment and delivery of a Master's degree in Law. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to undergraduate instruction; experience in programme review and programme development; evidence of excellence in teaching and in the use of creative/innovative pedagogies; knowledge of current trends in pedagogy; and a commitment to research and scholarly activities. A focus on environmental and/or maritime law will be of value.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Law from an accredited institution; excellent tertiary-level teaching experience; and evidence of scholarly research and publications.

Setting. The University of The Bahamas (UB) is a vital catalyst for national development. Chartered on 10th November 2016, UB had its genesis in The College of The Bahamas which was established in 1974. Since 1995, the institution's academic offerings have expanded through the introduction of baccalaureate degree programmes offered across a broad range of approximately 60 majors. Master's degree programmes have included an MBA and an MSc in Reading and Inclusive Education as well as graduate degree programmes offered in collaboration with various US universities. UB operates from the Oakes Field Campus and the Grosvenor Close Centre in New Providence; UB-North in Grand Bahama; and the Gerace Research Facility in San Salvador. Additional sites are planned for throughout the archipelago.
