Mingoes Soccer Team Hits Pitch In Orlando

NASSAU - The University of The Bahamas Men's Soccer team hits the pitch this weekend in its second set of matches in almost two years.

The side plays Johnson University Thursday and Trinity College Friday in Kissimmee Florida.

The Mingoes lost two matches—3-0 and 2-0—against Johnson University two weekends ago.

"I'm expecting a lot better performance this coming weekend," team captain Julio Jemison said. "We are going to have an extra man on the team and that should make a difference in midfield."

Jemison added that he feels the team is enthusiastic about being able to play competitive soccer for the first time in almost two years.

"That's always good to see them excited and ready to play," he said. "In practice we have been improving on many of the problems we had in the first set of matches; so I think we are going to have a better performance this weekend."

Prior to the matches two weeks ago, the Mingoes hadn't played competitively since losing to United Football Club (FC), 2-0, in March of 2020 in Bahamas Football Association (BFA) action at the Roscow A.L. Davies Soccer Field. BFA league action remains on hold, as is the case with all league sporting events in the country.
