

UNIVERSITY OF THE BAHAMAS COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER NEW PROVIDENCE

Dr. Herbert Hugh Thompson

A University of The Bahamas alumnus, Dr. Herbert Hugh Thompson is Chief Technology Officer at Symantec Inc., the world's largest security software company with more than 12,000 employees worldwide and more than $5 billion in annual revenue. Dr. Thompson is the Chairman of the RSA Conference Program Committee, the world's largest cyber security conference with over 45,000 security professionals. He is a world-renowned expert in information security and has co-authored four bestselling books, more than 100 academic and industrial publications and frequently writes for such industry publications as the New York Times, Scientific American and Forbes.

Dr. Thompson was named one of the "Top 5 Most Influential Thinkers in IT Security" by SC Magazine and the Financial Times calls him "one of the world's foremost cryptology and internet security experts." He has been interviewed by top news organizations including BBC, Bloomberg, CNN, CNBC, Fox News, CBS Evening News, HBO, BusinessWeek, Forbes, Associated Press and the Washington Post.

For several years, Dr. Thompson served as an Adjunct Professor in the Computer Science Department at Columbia University in New York. In 2006, HBO made an Emmy-nominated documentary about his work in uncovering vulnerabilities in electronic voting systems called Hacking Democracy. As one of the world's leading experts in information security, Dr. Thompson has shared the keynote stage with leaders such as Bill Clinton, Tony Blair, Colin Powell and celebrities such as Stephen Colbert, Alec Baldwin and Sean Penn. Thompson earned his B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in Applied Mathematics from Florida Institute of Technology. He earned his A.A. in Business Management at University of The Bahamas.