Assistant/Associate Professor, Architecture

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Sciences is pleased to invite applications for the position of Assistant/Associate Professor, Architecture. This full-time appointment will begin 2 August 2018.

The Department of Architecture and Technology is seeking a faculty colleague with a record of excellence in undergraduate teaching and creative/scholarly work to teach in a new five-year bachelor of architecture degree programme. The programme is designed to prepare students to address issues of Eco-tourism, Green Architecture and Sustainable Development and provides a balanced approach to the art and science of architectural design and construction. Students will gain an awareness of the impact of climate change as a result of the built environment and conduct research that fosters and informs sustainable community development. We are especially interested in a faculty colleague with expertise in either building services and technology, architectural design and digital media or urban and regional planning. We encourage applications from those professionals who can establish a research/design agenda that incorporates sustainable design, energy and other conservation considerations with a focus on small island states.

Responsibilities. Teach architectural design studio and other courses; engage in research and scholarly activities; assist in securing external grants and other funding opportunities; engage in curriculum review, revision and development; participate in student recruitment and advisement; serve on departmental, school, university-wide and external committees.

Qualifications. Candidates must have an earned Master of Architecture or terminal degree in Architecture or a closely related field from an accredited institution; must be a licensed professional; must have a minimum of three years full-time tertiary teaching or professional practice; and evidence of creative and/or scholarly work. Applicants who demonstrate the ability to establish a research/design agenda that incorporates sustainable design, energy and other conservation considerations with a focus on small island states will be given special consideration.

Setting. The University of The Bahamas (UB) is a vital catalyst for national development. Chartered on 10th November 2016, UB had its genesis in The College of The Bahamas which was established in 1974. Since 1995, the institution's academic offerings have expanded through the introduction of baccalaureate degree programmes offered across a broad range of approximately 60 majors. Master's degree programmes have included an MBA and an MSc in Reading and Inclusive Education as well as graduate degree programmes offered in collaboration with various US universities. UB operates from the Oakes Field Campus and the Grosvenor Close Centre in New Providence; UB-North in Grand Bahama; and the Gerace Research Facility in San Salvador. Additional sites are planned for throughout the archipelago.

Application. Application materials should include:

1. A cover letter describing academic philosophy and vision, research and publications;
2. Copies of academic qualifications;
3. Copies of transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate degree programmes completed;
4. A current and complete curriculum vitae;
5. Copy of relevant pages of a valid passport showing photo ID, passport number and expiration date;
6. Three letters of reference;
7. Completed UB Application for Employment Form found at this link:
