Assistant/Associate Professor, Civil Engineering

The Faculty of Pure and Applied Sciences is pleased to invite applications for the position of Assistant/Associate Professor, Civil Engineering. This full-time appointment will begin 1 August 2019.

The Department of Architecture and Technology is seeking a faculty colleague with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and research. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated record of securing external research funding, publishing in peer-reviewed journals and mentoring students. Applicants who demonstrate the ability to establish a research agenda that addresses issues critical to small island states such as sustainable and resilient infrastructure, water resources and management, coastal zone management, adaptation to climate change as well as construction engineering and materials are especially encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will teach courses in engineering and engineering technology, advise students and assist in the revision of programmes and courses. A terminal degree in civil, coastal or environmental engineering or a closely related field from an accredited university is required.

Responsibilities. Teach courses in engineering and engineering technology; engage in research and scholarly activities; assist in securing external grants and other funding opportunities; engage in curriculum review, revision and development; participate in student recruitment and advisement; serve on departmental, school, university-wide and external committees.

Qualifications. Candidates must have an earned PhD in civil, coastal or environmental engineering or a closely related field from an accredited institution; a minimum of two years full-time teaching or research at the tertiary level; evidence of research, scholarship and publications in peer-reviewed journals; evidence of the ability to secure external research funds. Applicants who demonstrate the ability to establish a research agenda that addresses issues critical to small island states such as sustainable and resilient infrastructure, water resources and management, coastal zone management, adaptation to climate change as well as construction engineering and materials will be given special consideration.

Setting. University of The Bahamas (UB) is a vital catalyst for national development. Chartered on 10th November 2016, UB had its genesis in The College of The Bahamas which was established in 1974. Since 1995, the institution's academic offerings have expanded through the introduction of baccalaureate degree programmes offered across a broad range of approximately 60 majors. Master's degree programmes have included an MBA and an MSc in Reading and Inclusive Education as well as graduate degree programmes offered in collaboration with various US universities. UB operates from the Oakes Field Campus and the Grosvenor Close Centre in New Providence; UB-North in Grand Bahama; and the Gerace Research Facility in San Salvador. Additional sites are planned for throughout the archipelago.

Application. Application materials should include:

1. A cover letter describing academic philosophy and vision, research and publications;
2. Copies of academic certificates;
3. Copies of transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate degree programmes completed;
4. A current and complete curriculum vitae;
5. Copy of relevant pages of a valid passport showing photo ID, passport number and expiration date;
6. Names and contact information of three persons who can provide letters of reference;
7. Completed UB Application for Employment Form found at this link:
