

Assistant/Associate Professor, Writing and Rhetoric
University of The Bahamas, Commonwealth of The Bahamas

Date Posted	February 2024
Type	Contractual with an option to renew
Salary	Commensurate with qualifications
Employment Type	Full-time

The University of the Bahamas invites applications for a full-time faculty position in the College of Liberal & Fine Arts. The candidate's academic appointment will be at our northern campus on the island of Grand Bahama. UB North is a branch campus within the University of the Bahamas System and is being strategically developed to offer a number of selected programs that uniquely positions it for positive growth. We are assembling a strong contingent of talented, creative and enthusiastic faculty who can benefit from and contribute to our exciting ongoing academic (re)building/development process.

The successful candidate will possess strong expertise in Composition with competencies extending into the teaching of Literature. Main responsibilities include teaching, research, program development, courses creation and serving on various committees.

Faculty should exhibit a willingness to collaborate and contribute to the university's collegial intellectual environment. He/she will be expected to teach and conduct research that reflects the interests of the faculty member and the needs of the institution.

Qualifications:

- Ph.D. degree in Rhetoric and Composition or related field is preferred however candidates with Masters degrees are also encouraged to apply as all aspects of qualifications will be considered in selecting a successful candidate;
- Areas of expertise may include WAC/WID, digital rhetoric, distance education. Interest in Caribbean literature, post coloniality, or gender studies would prove beneficial. Proven record of guiding students to developing strong reading, writing and critical thinking skills;
- Commitment to and excellence in undergraduate teaching;
- A strong research record appropriate to the level of appointment;
- Demonstrated ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service.

Teaching Requirements:

The successful candidate may be called upon to teach courses from the following list:

ENGL119 - Writing and Rhetoric I; ENGL120 - Writing and Rhetoric II; ENGL300 - Advanced Composition; ENGL124 – Introduction to Criticism; ENGL108 – The Oral Tradition of Bahamian Literature; ENGL208 – Introduction to Bahamian Literature;

Appointment Terms:

- 3-year contractual engagement with expected extensions
- The anticipated start date: August 1st 2024
- Salary will be commensurate with qualifications

How to Apply:

Submit electronically all of the below listed in one email to ubnpresident@ub.edu.bs noting the position in the subject field.

Only electronic submissions will be accepted.

For additional information refer your inquiries to jamilah.thompson@ub.edu.bs

- Copies of academic qualifications;
- Copies of all relevant graduate and undergraduate degree program transcripts;
- Current curriculum vitae;
- Copies of relevant pages of passport, showing photo, passport number and expiration date;
- Three reference letters;
- Completed application form. Application forms are available at:
(<https://www.ub.edu.bs/wp-content/uploads/2016/10/UB-Application-for-Employment-Faculty.pdf>)