He/she will introduce students to traditional and contemporary pedagogical philosophies and guide them in the generation and application of learning objectives, instructional activities, and assessments. Faculty will readily incorporate virtual learning strategies and tools into their teaching activities in a manner that motivates students to do the same.

The successful candidate will be required to participate in student recruitment and advisement, supervise education students on field placement, engage in research and scholarly activities, assist with identifying and obtaining grants and other capital opportunities, participate in curriculum review, revision and development, and serve on departmental, college, university-wide and external committees.

Faculty should exhibit a willingness to collaborate across disciplines and contribute to the university's collegial intellectual environment. He/she will be expected to teach and conduct research that reflects the interests of the faculty member and the needs of the institution.

Qualifications:

- An earned PhD or EdD in Secondary Education or a related field is preferred;
- Commitment to and excellence in teaching;

- Demonstrated record of providing students with the knowledge, attitudes, behaviours, and skills they require to perform their tasks effectively in the classroom, school, and wider community;
- Demonstrated ability to direct students in various subject-specific teaching strategies;
- A strong research record appropriate to the level of appointment; and
- Demonstrated ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service.

Appointment Terms:

- 3-year contractual engagement with expected extensions;
- The anticipated start date is 1st August 2023; and
- Salary will be commensurate with qualifications.

Application: Application materials should include the following:

- A cover letter describing academic philosophy and vision, research, and publications;
- Copies of academic and professional qualifications;
- Copies of transcripts of all relevant graduate and undergraduate degree programmes completed;
- Current Curriculum Vitae or Resume;
